

ARTIKA

THE 8th CONTEMPORARY ART EXHIBITION

1 - 9 SEPTEMBER 2018
CASA DEI CARRARESI

THE 8th EDITION

Starting from September 1, 2018, The 8th CONTEMPORARY ART SHOW is going to take place at Casa dei Carraresi Museum in Treviso. It is an annual exhibition set up by ARTIKA (Italian Art Company) and curated by Daniel Buso.

The art curator will select a group of 80 international artists that will have the opportunity to exhibit their works in this famous location. The exhibition will be displayed in 2 floors of the building and it will host different artistic styles and concepts: painting, sculpture, video, installation and photography. This is an opportunity to get in touch with various artwork but also an opportunity to meet different points of view and analyze the future of contemporary art, discussing it with experts and visitors.

This is the 8^o edition of this project, confirming its importance and necessity in the process of promoting contemporary art. During these years, more than 300 national and international artists signed up, willing to be part of this exhibition. The very first exhibition, in 2011, hosted a group of Venetian artists, while the following ones have been displaying a range of international artists, becoming one of the most significant and relevant exhibit. It plays indeed a central role in the process of uncovering this century's contemporary artists, attentively selected by the Art Curator, Daniel Buso, their esthetic experiences and their stylistic choices.

Every year, thousands of people gather together to be part of this exhibition. But this year, we are expecting this number to increase, due to the success of other projects organized and curated by ARTIKA, such as «PLANTARIUM», «Giappone fiorito» and «RITRATTI – Tiziano, Tintoretto e artisti veneti del XXI secolo».

THE ART CURATOR

Daniel Buso is an art curator and historian of contemporary art. He graduated at Ca' Foscari University in Venice. His masters were Nico Stringa (contemporary art professor) and Eugenio Manzato (former director of Musei Civici Trevigiani). In 2006 he became part of Ca' dei Carraresi staff (Treviso) and he attended a Master for Art Curators in MAXXI (Rome). In 2010 he founded the non-profit group Artika EasyArt which in 2011 became Artika Events. In 2011 he brought ARTIKA to Ca' dei Carraresi and gave life to the project «Contemporary Art Exhibition». He has been collaborating with Elena Zannoni since 2012.

ARTIKA was created in 2010 by Daniel Buso. Our activities are: set-ups, marketing and everything it is necessary to bring into being an Art event. Our first passion is contemporary art but recently we've created amazing exhibitions connecting classical and modern art to contemporary artists. Since 2011 we've been designing exhibitions in Ca' dei Carraresi (Treviso), in 2016 we opened the Barchessa di Villa Giovannina (restored villa in Villorba, Treviso), while since 2017 we've been working in Museo Civico Casa Robegan by organizing solo shows dedicated to important Italian artists, such as Omar Galliani and Claudio Massini. The most important exhibitions we've recently made are: BREAKFAST IN BEIRUT (a tribute to the Middle East Art) in 2016, PLANTARIUM (the beauty of nature through the magic of art) in 2017, GIAPPONE FIORITO in 2017 and RITRATTI (an exhibition that connected the Renaissance to the young contemporary artists of Bevilacqua La Masa Foundation).
